

Seated Static Breath Counting

坐势静功数息法

1 / 2

FIGURES 1-2

Follow each panel left to right.

inhale

exhale

voiced release

Choose one seat. These are alternatives, not consecutive movements.

1

Option A

Auspicious Seat · 吉祥坐

Full lotus: place the left foot on the right thigh, then the right foot on the left thigh. Sit upright without strain.

2

Option B

Vajra Seat · 金刚坐

Full lotus in the opposite order: place the right foot on the left thigh, then the left foot on the right thigh. Easier natural sitting postures are acceptable.

Breathe through the nose without forcing. Keep the attention gently at the lower dantian.

Seated Static Breath Counting

坐势静功数息法

2 / 2

FIGURES 1–2

①

Count

one to five—or one to ten

Settle the mind and attend to the lower dantian. Gradually make the breath slower, longer, deeper, even, and comfortable. Silently count each breath; do not chase a high number.

②

Build slowly

about 15 minutes at first

Begin with roughly a quarter-hour. Increase gradually to 30 or 45 minutes; the source advises stopping at about one hour. Never force the posture or the breath.

Breathe through the nose without forcing. Keep the attention gently at the lower dantian.